

Codes of LETTers

Concepts

1. One has to be honest, reasonable, and respectful to be a member.
2. Coach represents and is responsible to LETTers.
3. Everything is training during intensive training time.

Codes

On Membership

1. LETTers memberships are of three types – lifelong membership, official membership, and preparatory membership.
2. One has to be eligible for icpc regionals to be a preparatory or official member.
3. One has to be admitted to be a preparatory member by coach, whose membership ends after one icpc season, or his or her being expelled from LETTers.
4. A perfect attendance of any official icpc contest qualifies a preparatory member to be an official member, whose membership ends when he or she is no longer eligible for icpc regionals as a USTB student, or is expelled from LETTers.
5. A perfect serving with special contribution or outstanding daily performance qualifies an official member lifelong membership following his or her official membership.
6. Even first commitment of purposely cheating makes a preparatory or official member suspended and on probation for one year, or even expelled immediately.
7. Purposely being either unreasonable or offensive imposes probation of one year on a preparatory or official member.
8. Any mistake made by a member during probation expels him or her from LETTers.
9. Any membership transformation of a member has to be approved by coach.

Miscellaneous

10. During intensive trainings, everything done by a member has to be permitted by coach, or coach may consider him or her unqualified to be a contestant, and thus rearrange or suspend his or her attending contests or even expel him or her from LETTers.
11. All actions to be done in name of LETTers have to be approved by coach.
12. All attendants share the cost of an event equally before anyone wish to pay more.
